

Correction to “Human Arylacetamide Deacetylase Is a Principal Enzyme in Flutamide Hydrolysis”

In the article referenced above [Watanabe A, Fukami T, Nakajima M, Takamiya M, Aoki Y, and Yokoi T (2009) Drug Metab Dispos 37:1513–1520; doi:10.1124/dmd.109.026567], the abbreviation of BNPP, bis-(nonylphenyl)-phenylphosphate, was incorrect.

The correct abbreviation is bis-(p-nitrophenyl)phosphate.

The online versions of this article have been corrected.

The authors regret this error and apologize for any confusion.
